Re: Proposed Closure of John Hope College Preparatory High School

Dear Parent or Guardian:

Chicago Public Schools (CPS) is committed to providing every child from every community with a high quality education that prepares them for success in college and in life. CPS students continue to make record-breaking academic progress in every part of the city. Our vision is that all CPS schools can build on this progress by offering high quality, rigorous instruction from talented educators that help put Chicago students on a path to lasting success.

Enrollment at John Hope College Preparatory High School (Hope) in the fall of 2006 was at 1,015 students while enrollment in fall of 2017 was 100 students. Under-enrolled schools like Hope face challenges in providing a well-rounded education for their students because they often have difficulty offering robust program options for students. Ultimately, the cycle of declining enrollment creates challenges in programming and staff recruitment that make it difficult to provide the high school experience that students deserve.

As a result of these trends, the Englewood Community Action Council (CAC) recommended that CPS create a state-of-the-art neighborhood high school in Englewood and consolidate existing neighborhood high schools in Englewood. In turn, in June 2017, CPS followed through on the recommendation by formally proposing an investment to create a state-of-the-art neighborhood high school, now worth $85 million. The school is scheduled to open in fall 2019 with a freshman class.

Following the Englewood CAC's recommendation, CPS formed a Community Leadership Steering Committee to work through the details of this proposal, including planning for the new high school and developing a plan for the current Englewood high schools and students. Over multiple meetings between the Steering Committee and CPS leadership as well as tours of the existing Englewood high schools, a variety of options were considered for the current Englewood high schools, including closure and multi-year phase outs. Ultimately, a vote was taken on two options and the majority vote was to close the high schools, including Hope, at the end of 2017-18 school year and provide robust, individualized support to transition current students to other higher performing high schools that are a good match for their needs. That is why I am proposing the closure of John Hope College Preparatory High School (Hope), located at 5515 South Lowe Avenue.

The rationale for this action includes the following:

- If the high schools were to phase out over several years, the problems associated with declining enrollment would continue and the risk of diminished programs and staffing challenges would increase, potentially worsening educational opportunities for students.
- If the high schools were to phase out and certain students wanted to transfer before school closure, they would not be eligible to play sports the year they transfer as per the guidelines of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA), which governs participation in sports in the state.
- More than 90 percent of students who currently live in Englewood now choose to attend non-neighborhood high schools.
- With the right individualized transition supports, students from Hope could have a better high school experience, be better prepared to graduate high school and be ready for college and career success.

The proposed closure of Hope meets the criteria of the Chief Executive Officer's Guidelines for School Actions (Guidelines) because it is a proposal requested by community members via the process to request proposals outlined in the Guidelines. Specifically, we have heard the request for this proposal from the Englewood Community Action Council and at a meeting of the Englewood Community Leadership Steering Committee in calendar year 2017.

Current students at Hope will be provided options to enroll in higher performing schools, as defined by the Guidelines. CPS will work closely with the Hope students and their families to develop individualized transition plans that determine the school that will best meet their academic and social-emotional needs.

Additionally, the Office of Diverse Learners Support Services (ODLSS) will work with the students in the cluster program at Hope to relocate them to another nearby cluster program that meets their individual needs. ODLSS staff will set up informational meetings with students and families impacted. More details can be found in the attached transition plan, and we will be holding meetings with the community to further discuss these plans.

In addition, as a part of this proposed closure, I will also propose that Hope's attendance area be reassigned so that every student continues to have a neighborhood school, if desired. The proposed attendance areas changes are as follows: the western portion (west of Racine Ave) will be assigned to Gage Park High School and the eastern portion (east of Racine Ave) will be assigned to Phillips High School.

If you would like more detail about the proposed closure, please refer to the Draft Transition Plan that is included with this letter.

As a next step, CPS will hold two community meetings and one public hearing to hear further feedback on CPS' proposal (meeting information is below). Following the meetings and hearing, the Board of Education may vote on this proposal as early as February of 2018.
